

Sunquest Interoperability Program

No two labs are alike. From the testing performed to the technology solutions implemented, the lab's workflow is unique—and often complex.

Without a focus on clinical interoperability, organizations face inefficient workflows, extended turnaround times and loss of revenue. It is no easy task for any lab.

A targeted approach to better care through optimization

The Sunquest Interoperability Program considers:

- Order intake from external sources, such as your EHR or HIS
- Laboratory workflow throughout the organization
- Result delivery and interpretation
- Connectivity or workflow challenges between systems
- Billing deficiencies due to missing or duplicate information

Sunquest recognizes the need for better clinical interoperability and offers its customers a program to help identify, resolve and optimize the integration between your lab and external systems. With years of experience working with our customers to integrate with major EHR and HIS solutions, Sunquest has identified meaningful ways in which our solutions may augment or complement workflow situations that often occur with clinical integration. Sunquest delivers lab methods to:

- Capture and process complete orders
- Perform the right tests
- Deliver timely and accurate results
- Support better billing and reimbursement

Sunquest Interoperability Program

We take a targeted approach to identify gaps and expose opportunities within your enterprise to elevate the importance of interoperability and prepare your lab for better collaboration and coordination as required to support the care continuum.

Get Results, Take Action

The Sunquest Interoperability Program enables you to strengthen your laboratory's ability to serve the community of physicians, caregivers and ultimately the patient.

Optimize Sunquest Solutions

Organizations that take advantage of our Interoperability Program position themselves as a vital member of the diagnostic community, improving healthcare outcomes and enhancing physician and patient experiences.
